CHINA SPECIALIST JOINS MANSFIELD FOUNDATION STAFF

WASHINGTON, D.C. The Maureen and Mike Mansfield Foundation, a non-profit organization that promotes understanding and cooperation in U.S.-Asia relations, today announced that Henry Fung has joined the Foundation's Washington, D.C. office as Program Associate.

Mr. Fung's primary responsibility is the development and implementation of the Foundation's China programs, including exchanges, conferences and policy dialogues, as well as other Asia-focused programming. He brings to the Foundation an in-depth knowledge of U.S.-China relations and Chinese politics, as well as a commitment to international education. Immediately prior to joining the Mansfield Foundation, Mr. Fung was a research assistant at the John L. Thornton China Center of the Foreign Policy Studies Program at the Brookings Institution, where he conducted analytical research and edited publications on topics including U.S.-China cooperation on climate change, China's energy policy, and Chinese leadership politics. Mr. Fung's experience in implementing education exchange programs includes serving as faculty advisor at the Congressional Youth Leadership Council and National Youth Leadership Forum and as program coordinator at the University of California-Irvine's International Center.

Mr. Fung holds a Master of Pacific and International Affairs degree from the Graduate School of International Relations and Pacific Studies at the University of California-San Diego, and a Bachelor of Arts degree in political science from the University of California-Irvine. Born and raised in Hong Kong, he reads and writes Chinese and speaks Cantonese and Mandarin.
